I.—APPROXIMATE ACREAGES UNDER THE VARIOUS CROPS.

The figures given in this table are estimates based on the results of the Censuses of Production, 1921 and 1924. The acreages are subject to considerable error, and cannot in any way be guaranteed accurate owing to the difficulty in obtaining exact information of the variable areas under village plantation. The coconut area seems to be under estimated and is generally thought to be over 1,000,000 acres. Figures of gross produce are not given, as in the past, as they are not sufficiently accurate. The export figures of various products are given in pages P 67–116 of this volume.

I.—LABOUR.

Classification.—Manual labour in Ceylon may be best considered under the following heads :—

(1) Unskilled—
  (a) Immigrant.
  (b) Indigenous.

(2) Skilled.

Skilled and Unskilled Labour.—The dividing line between skilled and unskilled labour is not always clear ; but the former term generally connotes work done with tools by skilled persons, such as artisans technically trained to use them. Unskilled work is also generally done by persons using tools, but of a simpler kind. Most agricultural manual work may be reckoned as unskilled, though such tasks as tea plucking or rubber tapping require considerable skill and experience.

General Legislation.—Ordinance No. 11 of 1865 applies to all contracts for hire and service, and section 3 setting out the standard contract in Ceylon reads :—

" Every verbal contract for the hire of any servant, except for work usually performed by the day, or by the job, or by the journey, shall (unless otherwise expressly stipulated, and not withstanding that the wages under such contract shall be payable at a daily rate) be deemed and taken in law to be a contract for hire and service for the period of one month, and to be renewable from month to month, and shall be deemed and taken in law to be so renewed, unless one month's previous notice or warning be given by either party to the other of his intention to determine the same at the expiry of a month from the day of giving such notice."

Contracts for hire and service must be in writing and signed before a Magistrate or Justice of the Peace, if the period for which they are made exceeds one month.

Section 27 dealing with sickness of employees reads :—

" Any servant who shall be incapacitated by sickness from labour whilst in the service of any employer shall be entitled to lodging, food, as well as medical care, at the expense of such employer during such incapacity ; provided that the employer shall not be bound to pay to the servant during such period his wages in addition ; provided further, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the employer from determining the contract under the 10th section of this Ordinance in case the servant shall become permanently disabled from completing his contract."

Washington Conventions.—Ordinance No. 6 of 1923 legalizes in Ceylon the Washington Conventions regarding the employment of women, young persons, and children in industrial undertakings.

Unskilled Labour.—Unskilled labour in Ceylon may, for the sake of convenience, be considered under the heads estate and non-estate, each of which may be divided into immigrant and indigenous.

Estate Labour.

The immigration of labour from India to the estates in Ceylon is a movement of long standing, dating back to 1830 or earlier. The total resident estate population of Indian labourers is estimated to be about 720,000.

Hours of Work.—The hours of work on estates are generally from 6.30 A.M. to 4 P.M., with an interval of about one hour for a midday meal. A proposal to reckon as overtime hours of work exceeding nine hours per day including one hour for the midday meal is under consideration in connection with the legal minimum wage scheme. Night work on estates only takes place in the factories during very busy seasons.

Wages.—The general average minimum wages, cash bonuses included, for the most unskilled time workers on the estates vary from 50 to 55 cents a day for men, 30 to 35 cents for women, and 20 to 35 cents for children. Some men earn up to 65 cents and women up to 50 cents a day at time work. More than half the work on estates is done on a piece work basis, and thereby many labourers are enabled to earn twice or three times the amounts earned at time work. A male rubber tapper on a good estate can easily earn a rupee for half a day's work, while a girl plucking tea leaf can earn a rupee for a day's work during the harvesting seasons.

In addition to nominal or cash wages, labourers on estates receive bonuses as well as indirect wages, such as free housing, free medical aid, free firewood, free maternity benefit, and rice at about 14 per cent. below the market rate. On some estates they also have the free use of garden plots and get a free issue of cloths, and sometimes presents at festivals.

Legal Minimum Wage.—It is proposed to introduce legally binding minimum rates of wages to protect the least skilled able-bodied workers from payment of wages below the average rates for such labourers and in a minority of cases below a fair wage. The rates proposed for time workers are :—

	Men. Cents.	Women. Cents.	Children. Cents.
Low-country	50	40	30
Mid-country	52	41	31
Up-country	54	43	32

together with issue of good unblended rice at Rs. 6·40 a bushel and a free issue of rice to widows with dependents and for non-working children.

Housing.—Under the new housing scheme on estates about 80,000 rooms were either constructed or reconstructed within the four years 1922–1925 at a cost of over Rs. 25,000,000. The ultimate total cost of this scheme will, it is estimated be in the neighbourhood of Rs. 46,000,000.

Department of Indian Immigrant Labour.—The Department of Indian Immigrant Labour controls the recruitment of Indian labourers, and administers " The Immigration Fund," from which are met various expenses in respect of the recruitment, repatriation of labourers, and other matters. The Administration Report of the Controller may be referred to for fuller details with regard to immigrant labour.

Indigenous Labour on Estates.

The indigenous estate labour, in general, differs chiefly from the immigrant labour in that it is not resident. The Sinhalese who form most of the indigenous labourers on the estates are usually drawn from the surrounding villages, and are consequently less amenable to estate discipline. Having other interests and possibly other means of livelihood, they are for the most part less regular in attendance than the Indian Tamils. But excellent results can be obtained with indigenous labourers, particularly if they are housed on the estates. The numbers of indigenous labourers employed on estates are increasing, but they do not at present amount to more than 14 per cent. of the total labour force.

Non-Estate Labour.

Non-estate labour is of many different kinds; considerable numbers of immigrant labourers, mainly unskilled, are employed by Government Departments, such as the Public Works, Railway, Harbour Works, and others, by local bodies, by private firms, &c.

The general conditions in Government service are governed by provisions decided upon on the advice of the Labour Advisory Committee.

Two schedules of the classification of daily and hourly paid labour drawn by the Labour Advisory Committee and sanctioned by Government in 1926 are given below :—

Many indigenous labourers are similarly employed. In addition they supply a large proportion of the skilled labour, such as carpenters, blacksmiths, masons, &c. Their rates of pay differ according to age and skill from 60 cents to Rs. 8·10 a day. They are also employed in plumbago mines, cleaning sheds, mills of various kinds, the manufacture of copra, coir, &c. But the greatest numbers according to the Census of 1921 were cultivators of paddy amounting to about 417,000 persons. Most of them cultivate their own lands or help in the cultivation of others lands on varying terms. Others earn from 15 cents to Rs. 2 a day according to age and sex. Many of these occupations are unorganized, and no general statement can be made about their hours and conditions of work.

* Wages for all districts are not given as the figures are not of great value.

† In some parts of this district for village labour, men receive no payment if morning and midday meals are given, and women work a day for a kuruni of grain of any kind. In Wellawaya division in addition to cash wages, kurakkan and paddy are given to agricultural labourers.

‡ Wages are often paid in kind at the rate of 1 marakkal of paddy in place of 50 or 60 cents. 1 marakkal of paddy is equivalent to 7 heaped measures or 8 cut measures (seers).

§ Also paid by the job.

‖ Also paid by the job at rates varying according to the kind of timber and hardness of wood. In the case of jak they are Rs. 8 per 100 sq. ft., and Rs. 12 per 100 cubits.

¶ See Badulla District.

 Or 20 cents per mile up and down.

METEOROLOGY.

General Remarks.—There is a marked variation in climate between the different parts of Ceylon. In the low-country, with a mean temperature of the order of 80° F, a noticeable feature is the small range of both temperature and pressure. There is, however, wide divergence between the moist conditions in the south-west of the Island, where the average annual rainfall varies from 100 to over 200 inches, and the dry zone areas of the north, north-west, and south-east.

Inland, with altitudes up to over 8,000 feet, a cooler climate is experienced with a corresponding change in vegetation and an increased range of temperature.

Rainfall.—The rainfall of 1927 was above average in most of Uva and the Eastern and Southern Provinces, and in rather more than half of the Western and Central Provinces. Deficits preponderated slightly in the North-Western Province, and rather more definitely in the North-Central Province, while they were very marked in the Northern Province and the northern and central parts of Sabaragamuwa.

Padupola heads the list with 233·6 inches or 14·1 above its own average, Watawala being next with 227·7. Carney, Ingoya, and Blackwater, which are the stations with the highest averages, failed to reach their averages this year though all three recorded over 200 inches. The biggest offsets above their averages were at stations on the other side of the hills at which the north-east monsoon forms the more important factor.

At the other extreme, Mannar Waterworks only recorded 24·68 inches closely followed by Elephant Pass Saltern 25·15 and Ponparippu 25·6. Marichchukkaddi had 31·4 this year and still holds the lowest average, namely, 34·6.

The chief features of the distribution through the year were the unusually heavy rain of March and the deficiency in October. The south-west monsoon after a very wet beginning in May and early June gave less than average rainfall in July and August.

Temperature.—Temperature variations were not particularly well marked in 1927. In most cases the maxima were a trifle lower, and the minima a trifle higher than those in 1926. Nuwara Eliya showed the biggest variation (+ 0·8), a nominally greater value at Hakgala being not truly comparable, owing to a recent change in the site of the shed.

The station showing the highest mean shade temperature for the year was Trincomalee 82·9° F., and the lowest Nuwara Eliya with 60·1° F. The figures for Colombo and Kandy were 81·0° F. and 77·0° F. respectively.

The highest shade temperature in air recorded during the year was 98·2° F. at Anuradhapura on September 3. The highest on record is 103·7° F. at Trincomalee on May 12, 1890. The lowest this year was 34·6 at Nuwara Eliya (6,000 feet above sea level) on April 13, at which station 27·1° F. was recorded in 1914. The highest shade temperature in Colombo in 1927 was 91·4° F. on April 20, and the lowest 66·9° F. on January 10.

The mean daily range, i.e., the difference between the mean of the maximum and the mean of the minimum, was highest at Badulla, 17·5° F., and lowest at Galle, 8·0° F. At Colombo and Kandy it was 12·0° F. and 14·8° F. respectively. The absolute range for the year, i.e., the difference between the highest and the lowest readings actually recorded at any one station, was greatest at Nuwara Eliya 42·3° F. and lowest at Galle 18·0° F.

The method of exposure of thermometers for air temperatures is at present in a transition state. The use of screens of the enlarged Stevenson type has been approved for the future, instead of the open sheds formerly in use. Such screens have been set up at about half the stations and their use will become general in 1928, but in most cases where both shed and screen were used simultaneously in 1927 for purposes of comparison the shed readings have been retained up to the end of this year. Readings from the screens in this report include Mannar, Puttalam (from May), and Trincomalee (from October).

Further information on this point is given in Part II. of Vol. I. of the Ceylon Journal of Science.

* Thirty days' observations.

In the above table the tendency for both extremes to occur at the same time of year is noteworthy, and calls attention to the fact that in the tropics variations in cloudiness have a greater importance relatively to variations in the sun's declination than is the case in the temperate zones.

TABLE VIII.—Percentage Humidity for 1927 calculated from the Dry and Wet Tables issued by the Indian Meteorological Department. Figures in ordinary type are from the 9·30 and 3·30 readings, and so derived from temperatures that are rigidly comparable to each other, but give no detail of night conditions. The figures in italics give the mean of the humidity as derived from the maximum temperatures and as derived from the minimum. This only admits of approximate physical interpretation, since the dry and wet thermometers do not necessarily reach their extreme values simultaneously. It is, however, a serviceable approximation for several purposes, as it does include an indication of the conditions at night.

TABLE X.—Offsets of the 9·30 and 15·30 Air Pressure Readings of the Year 1927 from the Average expressed in decimals of an inch of mercury.

Taking one millibar as roughly equal to 0·03 inch of mercury, it will be seen that offsets of as much as a millibar were very rare.

Table XIII.—High Velocities of Wind at Colombo (Fort).

The figures below are in general taken from an anemometer at the Fort, gusts of 25 miles per hour or over being tabulated. Figures in italics are from a similar instrument at the Observatory, and are only given for times when the Fort instrument was out of action. Observatory figures are included if over 20 miles per hour, as velocities at the Observatory are liable to be associated with slightly higher velocities at the Fort. Observatory readings are not given at times when Fort readings are available.

The numerical values below must only be accepted as approximations, roughly comparable among themselves, but not precise. The time given is Ceylon standard time, 5½ hours ahead of Greenwich.

TABLE XIV.—Maximum amount of rain falling in any periods of 1, 2, 3, 4, &c., consecutive days, during the year 1927, for selected stations. The periods of consecutive days are given between 10 and 20 by steps of 2, between 20 and 32 by steps of 3, between 32 and 40 by steps of 4, and above 40 by steps of 5.

The figure under each number represents the maximum amount of rain falling on that number of consecutive days during the year, the different figures for each station not necessarliy referring to the same wet spell. For example, at Trincomalee, the highest fall on one day was 2·47 in December, the highest fall on two consecutive days was 4·02 in May.

The series is terminated for each station when the intensity of the rain finally falls below 2 inches per day. In the case of wet spells occurring in December and January, the total rainfall on any particular number of consecutive days is considered as belonging to that year in which the greater part of the rain fell. St. Martin's supplies the only cases of that kind this year.

The rainfall day is not the calendar day, but from the observation of one morning to that of the following morning (even in the case of stations at which pluviograph records are available), and the rainfall year ends with the morning observation of January 1, 1928.

Similar statistics for a number of years have been tabulated and discussed in two papers. "Heavy Rainfall in Ceylon" (Engineering Association of Ceylon, Transactions, 1927), and "The Maximum Total Rainfall in Consecutive Days" (Ceylon Journal of Science, Section E, Vol. I., Part 2).

A total fall of about 7·8 inches fell in 5½ hours, between 5 hours and 10 hours 30 minutes on May 1. The sheet was changed at 9 hours 30 minutes and uncertainties in the time correction, and a lack of clearness in the trace, made it impossible to carry on the figures beyond 2″·8 with any certainty.

* Depth over sill high water ordinary neap tide.
† Low water ordinary spring tide.
‡ Even vessels of a larger tonnage can be berthed.

II.—Harbour Facilities.

Colombo Harbour.

There are no enclosed wet docks. Vessels lie at moorings in the shelter of the breakwaters, and are loaded or discharged from lighters.

There are six berths available during the south-west monsoon and six during the north-east monsoon for vessels drawing up to 33 feet of water; the area being deepened to 36 feet below low water ordinary spring tide, for vessels of 33 feet draught, is being further extended.

There are three oil jetties and one pier available for shipping as follows :—

Discharge Jetty, where vessels of 500 feet length and 27 feet draught can be berthed.
Outer Bunkering Jetty, where vessels of 550 feet length and 27 feet draught can be berthed.
Inner Bunkering Jetty, for bunkering barges only.
Graving Dock Guide Pier, length 800 feet, at present available for vessels of 27 feet draught, when not required for docking purposes.

In addition to the Graving Dock, there is a Patent Slip capable of taking vessels up to 1,200 tons dead weight. The Port is equipped with a thoroughly up-to-date Oil Installations Depôt, which is directly connected with the Harbour front by pipe line. Ships bunker either at the Graving Dock Guide Pier and Oil Jetties or in the stream from barges.

Galle Harbour.

There are seven berths accommodating vessels up to 450 feet in length and 27 feet draught.
Ships are moored head and stern with their own bower anchors and stern moorings supplied by the Harbour authorities.
Cargo is landed by means of lighters at three piers, which have depths of up to 6 feet alongside.
The anchorage is exposed, particularly during the south-west monsoon.
Pilotage is compulsory.
Ships are taken out, but not brought in during the night.

Trincomalee Harbour.

The maximum depth of water available at the Customshouse Jetty ordinary low spring tide is 6 feet 4 inches and of China Bay is 10 feet.

The length of the Customshouse Jetty is 300 feet and that of China Bay is 397 feet.

III.—Tides.

The rise and fall of tides are as follows :—
